Young Athletes:
An Inclusive Sports Play Program

Young Athletes provides opportunities for kids with and without intellectual disabilities to be active, have fun, and learn foundational sports skills. The inclusive program focuses on the development of physical, cognitive and social skills, as well as preparing athletes before they are eligible to compete with Special Olympics Kansas programs at age eight. Young Athletes is proven to accelerate the development of children with and without disabilities.

Elementary School | Middle School | High School:

With sports as the foundation, Special Olympics Unified Champion Schools bring together youth with and without intellectual disabilities to build inclusive communities, reduce bullying, and promote healthy activities. Students of all abilities benefit from the following opportunities in a Unified Champion School:

Special Olympics Unified Sports®: Students with and without intellectual disabilities train and compete together in sports year-round.	Whole School Engagement: Activities engage the full school community to promote inclusion and respect.	Youth Leadership: Young people of all abilities become leaders and changemakers in school communities.

College: Campus of Inclusion

Colleges and universities connect students with Special Olympics programs as coaches, Unified Sports partners, Unified fitness trainers, event volunteers, fundraisers, and more. Campuses also host recreational tournaments and State Games.

Community Programs: Unified and Traditional Sports

Community Programs offer year-round training and competition opportunities in traditional and Unified sports for athletes and partners ages eight through adulthood. Most programs host a variety of sports, while a few programs specialize in just one.

Health and Fitness

Special Olympics Kansas offers a variety of programs promoting healthy lifestyles apart from our sports competitions including:

- Walking Clubs
- Fitness Classes
- Nutrition Seminars
- Healthy Athlete Screenings
